Life Science Career Outlook Panel

Friday October 22 2010

10-11:30A

517 Lecture Hall

Optional workshops with panelists 12:30-1:30

Panel objectives

- Help KGI students gain a timely perspective on the outlook for life science companies over the next 12-24 months

- Provide KGI students with a framework of the skills and experience that will be necessary to successfully compete in the life science job market

- Update the KGI community about key life science firms
Marc Fields, Director Human Resources
Amgen Inc.

Marc is the human resources lead for Amgen’s Product & Process Engineering, and Drug Product & Device Development organizations based in Thousand Oaks, CA.

Prior to joining Amgen, Marc was a Regional human resources Manager with Honeywell International based in Atlanta, Georgia.

He has also worked globally while at Raytheon Company where he successfully completed their Human Resources development program.

Before embarking on a career in Human Resources, Marc served as a Senior Staff Consultant with Arthur Andersen.

Marc holds an MBA from the University of Notre Dame as well as a Bachelors degree in finance from Morehouse College.
Marchetti is a native Californian who grew up in the San Francisco Bay Area. He began his career as a professional drummer, performing at a variety of events. Then, Marchetti branched out as an entrepreneur, starting several businesses ranging from on-road electric transportation, talent and entertainment management, facilities management, construction design and build services, to human resources management.

While working in human resources, Gary Marchetti had the opportunity to work at The Disney University, Disney Hollywood Studios, Disney’s Old Key West Resort and Spa, Starwood Vacation Ownership – OD Manager Eastern region and the Caribbean, and Genentech. Currently, he is the Sr. HR Manager supporting Genentech’s Oceanside Commercial and Clinical production facilities.

He holds a B.S. Management and a M.S. Organizational Behavior from Golden Gate University in San Francisco. Currently, Marchetti is a member of Society for Human Resource Management San Diego and also a board member for the Mottino Family YMCA in Oceanside.
Scott Lloyd, Senior Staffing Manager
Baxter Healthcare Inc.

Scott is a Senior Manager of Staffing and has been at Baxter for 2 ½ years. He and his team are responsible for all of the staffing, global inclusion and university relations for all of the U.S. Bioscience Operations. Before joining Baxter, Scott was the Senior Staffing Manager at METRO of Los Angeles—the second largest public transportation agency in the United States. Prior to joining Metro, Scott was the Director of Staffing for 14 years of a nationwide executive search firm representing some of the top companies in the world. Scott earned his Masters in Industrial Psychology from Northeastern University and Bachelor’s in Psychology from Merrimack University.
Lori Pivo is a native of Southern California and has lived in San Diego for the past 22 years. She is currently Director, Talent Acquisition for the Medical Device businesses of Abbott Labs. Previous to this position, Lori held various roles within human resources at Eli Lilly and Company and Guidant Corporation in the areas of acquisition integration management, employee relations, performance management, compensation and affirmative action. She has an undergraduate degree from UCLA and an MBA from Kellogg Graduate School of Management at Northwestern University.
Teri Brunasso, Director of Human Resources
Agensys, Inc., a subsidiary of Astellas Pharma Inc.

Teri Brunasso is the Director of Human Resources for Agensys Inc., the Santa Monica California affiliate of Astellas Pharmaceuticals, USA. Ms. Brunasso is a UCLA certified human resources professional with over twenty years of progressive human resources experience ~ emphasis on mergers and acquisitions, risk management, employee relations and recruitment. Teri received her Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration (cum laude) from Mount St. Mary’s College, Los Angeles, CA and her Professional Designation in Human Resources Management from the University of California, Los Angeles.